Job Description

The College of Visual Arts and Design at the University of North Texas invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position as an Assistant Professor of Art History, with a specialization in pre- c.1500 art. The successful candidate will teach graduate and undergraduate art history courses to majors and non-majors. Art History faculty may receive support for their research through a variety of institutional research grants and travel funding. The standard annual teaching load is a 2|2 at the rank of assistant professor. Additional responsibilities include advising students, both undergraduate and graduate, service to the college and university, professional development, and continued enhancement of the art history program, which is housed in a Carnegie Tier One Research University. The ideal candidate will complement the faculty's strengths in global art, architecture, and design history.
