Job Description

Assistant Professor of Instruction in Visual / Performing Arts

The University of Texas at Dallas invites applications for a non-tenure track Assistant Professor of Instruction in Music Theory. Candidates will be evaluated on their willingness to nurture a progressive, creative classroom environment where all voices are welcomed and valued, their training in music theory, how their pedagogical approach intersects with their research interests, and experience teaching at the university level. Earned Doctorate in Music Theory (PhD) or Composition (DMA) at the time of appointment preferred.

This is a full-time position with a four-course load per semester. Teaching duties include three undergraduate levels of music theory, and other courses in the applicant's area(s) of expertise or assigned based upon the needs of the Visual and Performing Arts program. We seek candidates with a record of excellent teaching, and who are excited to contribute to the music concentration within the Visual and Performing Arts B.A. degree program at UT Dallas.
