Job Description

Aalto University is where science and art meet technology and business. We shape a sustainable future by making research breakthroughs in and across our disciplines, sparking the game changers of tomorrow and creating novel solutions to major global challenges. Our community is made up of 120 nationalities, 14 000 students, 400 professors and close to 5000 faculty and staff working on our dynamic campus in Espoo, Greater Helsinki, Finland. Diversity is part of who we are, and we actively work to ensure our community's diversity and inclusiveness. This is why we warmly encourage qualified candidates from all backgrounds to join our community.

The Aalto School of Arts, Design and Architecture ([url=https://www.aalto.fi/en/school-of-arts-design-and-architecture]Aalto ARTS) is a Nordic leader in higher education for design, fashion, game design, media, architecture, film, art education and fine art. We are a diverse community of professionals, with great appreciation for creativity and responsibility. We produce world-class research and educate front-line professionals and visionaries for established, changing and emerging fields. Our new campus in Espoo, in the greater Helsinki area of Finland, makes working together among and across disciplines easier than ever before. We are tackling societal grand challenges head-on and striving towards a sustainable, just society and environment.

The Department of Film (ELO) is the only university-level film school in Finland. It is a vibrant combination of a creative art academy, and an active research unit focused on practical productions. ELO teaches all areas of filmmaking. The academic staff consists of filmmakers, screenwriters, and researchers who are actively involved on an international level ([url=https://www.aalto.fi/en/departments-of-film-elos]Department of Film (ELO)).

The Department of Film invites applications for

Lecturer in Costume Design

The position is a full-time permanent lecturer position. The position will be filled at either University Teacher, Lecturer, or University Lecturer level according to Aalto University career system. Please see more information on the lecturer track here: [url=https://www.aalto.fi/en/teaching-and-learning/lecturer-career-system]Lecturer career system

Overview

We are looking for a lecturer with a vision of the future of costume design in the performing arts and/or film, specifically focusing on educating new creative professionals in the field of costume design. We are looking for a person with professional experience in costume design in the performing arts and/or film combined with teaching experience and pedagogical skills. In this teaching-focused position, you will have a chance to make an impact on students who are studying at both Bachelor and Master level. The position will begin the earliest in January 2026 or as agreed.

Responsibilities

The lecturer will be working in the major of Costume Design: Performing Arts and Film in the Department of Film. The work mainly consists of teaching duties, guiding and advising students' theses at BA and MA level, students' guidance in Personal Study Planning (HOPS), and administrative tasks including teaching planning, resourcing/budget planning, and coordinating guest teachers. Most of the costume design courses are taught by the lecturer. The lecturer also acts as the teacher responsible for Bachelor and/or Master courses and invites visitors to teach and familiarizes them with the work. Teaching is both in small and large groups in the form of lectures, practical exercises, workshops and productions. The lecturer will have interaction with the students and must be able to guide the students in the teaching situation, supporting their own artistic orientation. The lecturer is responsible for the curriculum planning and development independently, as well as in collaboration with the other academic staff of the Department of Film and with partner institutions such as the University of the Arts Helsinki (Taideyliopisto), especially the Theatre Academy (TEAK). Co-teaching and co-learning play an important role in the costume design major, so planning courses and projects in collaboration with other teachers is a natural part of the work. The lecturer's job description also includes participating in student admissions.

The emphasis of the lecturer's responsibility is on teaching. Aalto University's Department of Film supports the possibility for staff to do their own artistic work, for which short-term unpaid leave can be granted upon agreement with the department. The teaching language is Finnish, working language is Finnish and English.

Requirements

The lecturer in Costume Design is required to have at least a university master's degree. In addition, professional artistic/practice-based work in the field of costume design in the performing arts and/or film, teaching experience and/or supervising/advising experience in higher education institutions and/or vocational education are required.

Professional artistic experience in more than one area of costume design practice (theatre, process-based and devised performances, dance, opera/musical performance, circus, other performance projects, film, television etc.) is an additional merit. Additional merits also include experience in curriculum development, pedagogical studies, experience in developing teaching with partners in the education sector, and/or interest in research. Good knowledge of Finnish and English is essential.

What we offer

We offer you an interesting job at an expert work community that includes talented students and professionals and promotes socially significant goals in the fields of art, research and education. Aalto University provides its employees with health care benefits, an inspiring working environment and versatile staff training.

The salary is determined in accordance with Aalto University's salary system based on experience and qualifications. The position is located in Otaniemi, Espoo in the School of ARTS.
